

Functionalization of surfaces and one-dimensional nanostructures

Andréia Luisa Da Rosa

Federal University of Goiás, Brasil

Abstract

In this talk I will give an overview of our work on functionalization of transition-metal oxide surfaces and nanostructures developed in the past few years. The role of doping, defects and hybridization with organic molecules will be discussed. I will also present our current research activities and perspectives on future collaborations.